Pairing Controllers

Pairing before play:
Open the HOME Menu and select CONTROLLER SETTINGS ⇒ PAIR. Follow the on-screen instructions to pair your controller.

Pairing during play:
Press the SYNC Buttons on your Wii U console and Wii Remote simultaneously to pair them while the software is running.
Please be aware of the following:

You will hear the sound that is sent from your Wii U console to your TV after it has been processed by your TV. The processing time can result in a delay, which may cause you to hear a slight lag in the sound. This does not mean that your Wii U console, software or TV is broken.

Preventing Audio Delay

Depending on your TV, you may be able to reduce the audio delay by changing the settings to "Game Mode" or something similar. For more information please refer to your TV's operations manual. You may also find commercially available active speakers or other AV hardware to help in preventing audio delay.

Connecting Active Speakers (Example)

When your Wii U console and TV are connected via the HDMI™ port

1. Wii AV cable (sold separately)
   - If you own a Wii console, you can use the same cable you used with it.

2. A commercially available connection adapter
   - Only necessary if 1 and 3 cannot connect to each other directly.

3. A commercially available speaker system

▼ If your Wii U console and TV are connected using a Wii AV cable* via the AV Multi Out connector, connect the audio equipment directly via the audio ports (red and white) only, leaving the Video plug (the yellow plug when using a Wii AV cable) connected to your TV.
* A Wii RGB cable or Wii Component Video cable can be used instead of a Wii AV cable. Please note that it will not be possible to connect external speakers if your Wii U is connected to your TV using a Wii RGB cable.

▼ If your Wii U console and TV are connected using an HDMI cable, use the Wii U AV Multi Out connector at the same time (please see the connection example above) and connect only the Audio plugs (red and white) directly to the audio equipment. It is not necessary to connect the Video plug to the analogue port on your TV.

In order to optimise the connection, it is necessary to change the software settings to External Speaker Mode*. This can be done by accessing the Wii Karaoke U by JOYSOUND main menu. Select MORE MODES then touch OPTIONS and SWITCH AUDIO OUTPUT MODE, and activate External Speaker Mode.

* Your TV will no longer output sound once you have changed the software settings to External Speaker Mode. Reset the settings to have your TV output sound again.

* Changing Wii Karaoke U by JOYSOUND settings to External Speaker Mode will only affect this software. Other software that is not set to External Speaker Mode will continue to output sound through the TV connected to your console via the HDMI port.

・ Please read the on-screen information carefully when changing settings.
